HASSAN A. TETTEH is an award winning physician and surgeon. He is an Assistant Professor of Surgery at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences and adjunct Assistant Professor of Surgery at Howard University, College of Medicine. As a physician, educator, and thoracic surgeon, he appreciates the fragility of life, and he encourages his patients to "never sacrifice the gift."

The program will begin with drinks and a full Afghan-style dinner. All guests will receive a copy of Dr. Tetteh's book

Italian Renaissance Art: Understanding Its Meaning

Dinner and Discussion with Harvard Professor Joost-Gaugier AB, AM, PhD.

What is 'Renaissance' art? How do we know who were its inventors? Was an inventor the same thing as a 'great master'? Were all artists who lived in Italy during the Renaissance great masters? How can we evaluate works of Italian Renaissance art? This talk will attempt to answer these questions and others, in explaining how our eyes can "read" works of painting, sculpture, and architecture. Professor Christiane Joost-Gaugier is an internationally known art historian, specializing in Italian Renaissance art history.

Hogan Lovells, Litigation and Conference Center
555 13th St., NW, Washington, DC

October 24th, 6:30-8:30 PM

Dear Harvard Club Members,

This fall, our Harvard Club will continue to host a number of extraordinary events for you and your fellow alumni – events which include community service activities, embassy dinners, book signings, museum tours, and talks with some of the leading lights of Cambridge, Washington, and the world.

Since 1883, our Club has provided unique and compelling opportunities for education and fellowship to members of our Harvard community here in Washington.

In addition, our Club is charged with supporting our Harvard and Washington, DC communities in several different and important ways. This fall and early next year, hundreds of members of The Harvard Club of Washington will interview nearly a thousand prospective members of the Harvard Class of 2018. Over the years, your Club has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to support our local interview effort. The Harvard Club of Washington has granted hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarships so that students from Washington, DC can attend Harvard. Over the past decade, The Harvard Club of Washington has granted nearly a hundred thousand dollars in scholarships so that students from Harvard can pursue internships and careers in public service here in Washington DC.

All of this service and support is possible because of your membership in our Club. All of this good work is made possible by your generosity. The Harvard Club of Washington receives no funding from Harvard University. All of our funding comes from the generosity of members like you.

Please remember that your Club dues and your additional donations to the Harvard Club of Washington are fully tax deductible. If your employer provides a matching program for charitable donations – please consider asking your employer to match your contributions to the Harvard Club of Washington. We very much appreciate your support, and every dollar you donate to the Club goes to support our communities here in Washington and in Cambridge.

With your support, the Harvard Club of Washington will be able to continue to reconnect you with the more than 16,000 other graduates of Harvard who are a vital part of life in Washington DC. With your support, the Harvard Club of Washington will continue to bring together the very best that our communities here and in Cambridge have to offer.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

David Greene AB '91, MBA '96
President, Harvard Club of Washington, DC

Tour of Out of Southeast Asia: Art That Sustains

Southeast Asian textiles first served as markers of ethnic identity, distinguishing neighboring communities by pattern, color, and technique. Now commercial production challenges these practices, yet the artistic wealth of these several hundred groups continues to inspire artists from around the world. Out of Southeast Asia: Art That Sustains explores the intersection of these rich traditions and their interpretation within contemporary art and design.

Sherry 101 at Mockingbird Hill

Enjoy a flight of 3 sherries from different regions of Spain.

Sherry is enough of an unknown commodity in this country that Derek Brown, co-owner of a trim new bar specializing in the wine made primarily from the palomino grape, hosts weekly classes at Mockingbird Hill to introduce it to the curious, some of whom tell him their only exposure to the drink had been from Wikipedia. The major lessons Brown likes to impart in the Tuesday night tutorials are that sherry is from Spain; "it's the greatest food wine in the world"; and "more pirates than grandmothers" drank true sherry.

Mockingbird Hill

The Harvard Club of Washington DC is a 501c(3) organization and does not receive financial support from the University. Funds raised from these events will support the Harvard Club in its charitable mission, including the sponsorship of summer stipends for college students to work at other DC area non-profits. Because the Harvard Club must pay expenses for events in advance, we require at least one week notice to issue any event registration refunds. If you find you cannot attend an event less than a week prior to the event, you may transfer your registration to another member of the Harvard community with notification to Caren Pauley, Harvard Club
