Dear Members of the Harvard Community:

Membership in the Harvard Club of Washington: The Gift that Keeps on Giving

We are now entering the holiday season, a time of giving and helping those around us. And although giving to others is a joy unto itself, sometimes we also receive other, more tangible benefits. For example, the Harvard Club of Washington, DC is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization and therefore your membership dues are fully tax deductible as allowable by law. Further, if you join the Club, renew or extend your membership, or donate financially to the Club by December 31, 2011, the deduction can be applied to the 2011 tax year.

Membership dues help to support the Club's community service and education and outreach activities. Dues allow us to provide scholarships and community service fellowships for the current Harvard students. In addition, they allow us to support Harvard's goals and initiatives as well as its DC-area alumni. So if you are not already a member of the Harvard Club, please consider joining today. Or if you are a member, please consider renewing now if your membership is due to expire before the end of the year. In addition, you can extend your current membership by an additional year at any time. More information about Harvard membership and its benefits can be found at <http://www.harvard-dc.org/benefits.html>.

And if you do not choose (or are not eligible) to join the Club or to renew or extend your membership, you can always donate directly to the Club. You can do so by donating to our scholarship fund, sponsoring a prize book or simply providing a lump sum donation to the Club. For your convenience, you can do so online at <http://www.harvard-dc.org/donate.html>.

Moreover, the Club is always looking for willing volunteers. Not only do we welcome volunteer participation in our community service events, the Club itself is a volunteer-run organization. In particular, we are looking for people with strong traditional and social media skills who might assist us in improving our Club communications via print, the Internet and social media. We are also looking for volunteers who would like to use their administrative and organizational skills on behalf of the Club.

As always, the Club appreciates your generosity in supporting the Club with your time, your talents and your donations. We could not operate without your assistance.

Very truly yours,

René Rocque Lee '97, HLS '00
President, Harvard Club of Washington, DC

Please join the Club in congratulating Judith A. Dollenmayer AB '63 and Walter H. Morris, Jr. AB '73, MBA '75. On October 12, 2011, these former Harvard Club of Washington, DC Board members received awards from the Harvard Alumni Association (HAA) for outstanding service to the University through alumni activities.

Aside from their dedicated service to the University as a whole, Judith and Walter have focused much of their time and talent to serving DC-area alums. Although Judith is best-known to the Harvard alumni community for her work as serving and/or having a leadership role on several national HAA committees, such as the Engagement & Marketing Committee, the Awards Committee, and the Public Service Task Force, Judith is beloved in the DC area for having served as both a former president of the Radcliffe Club of Washington, DC and as the first female president of the Harvard Club of Washington, DC. Judith is also a seasoned interviewer for the Club's Schools Committee. Further, Judith is always willing to assist the Club when needed and provides an important link between DC-area alums and Cambridge.

Likewise, while Walter is probably best known to the Harvard alumni community for his accomplishments as president of the HAA from 2008 to 2009 and his current role as a member of the HAA Executive Committee, he is best known to the Club as a former Board member and a tireless advocate for DC-area alumni.

The Club is quite proud to have had the honor of working with such dedicated alums as Judith and Walter. Their HAA awards were extremely well deserved and we wish them continued honors and success in the future.

The Harvard Club of Washington DC is a 501c(3) organization and does not receive financial support from the University. Funds raised from these events will support the Harvard Club in its charitable mission, including the sponsorship of summer stipends for college students to work at other DC area non-profits. Because the Harvard Club must pay expenses for events in advance, we require at least one week notice to issue any event registration refunds. If you find you cannot attend an event less than a week prior to the event, you may transfer your registration to another member of the Harvard community with notification to Caren Pauley, Harvard Club
