Capitol Tour and Reception with Congressman Jim Himes AB '88

Join us on a special tour of the Capitol and reception with Congressman Jim Himes (A.B. '88).

The Congressman will be our guide for the tour. HCW will host a reception for him to share his views about current political developments and he will be happy to entertain questions.

During the private reception and discussion with Congressman Himes following the tour, we will enjoy a variety of hors d'oeuvres and wine or another beverage of your choice at Bérnaise.

The restaurant is the first venture of a brother-sister celebrity chef and marketing team who have created a modern twist of a classic french bistro.

17th Annual Ball's Bluff Battlefield Tour Celebrating the Harvard Regiment

Join us for our 17th annual tour of the Ball's Bluff Battlefield in Leesburg, Virginia and celebrate the 154th anniversary of the Battle. See where The Harvard Regiment--the 20th Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry--fought its first battle of the Civil War. Stand where future Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr. ('61) was wounded. Hear the story of a daring escape across the Potomac led by Captain William Francis Bartlett ('62).

We will be led again by Bill Wilkin, NVRPA-trained volunteer guide, attorney, former Foreign Service officer and reserve officer. Bill is now a history teacher at Loudoun County's Stone Bridge High School. For directions to Ball's Bluff, go to the website of the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority at www.nvrpa.org.

Panel Discussion "How to Achieve Gender-Balanced Leadership"

In Make Way for Women, business veteran/leadership expert John Keyser and author Adrienne Hand share how women's leadership skills are adding significant value and balance to the leadership of our companies.

This panel will address how women's and men's leadership skills differ in important ways and how they complement one another; how women can best position themselves to advance; and how men can and should be part of the solution to the current gender imbalance in business leadership. John Keyser and Adrienne Hand will be joined by Executive Coach Lulu Gonella, formerly of Ernst & Young, who consults with high-performing women and men in the DC area.

All are welcome; registration is required.

Cost: $25 for reception, which begins the event.

When: Wednesday, October 19, 6:30pm - 8:00pm

Where: Hogan Lovells, 555 13th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20004

Docent-Led Tour of Small Stories: At Home in a Dollhouse

This tour is suitable for families and all HCW member and their friends are welcome to attend but all must pay the fees listed below.

Small Stories reveals the fascinating tales behind some of London's Victoria & Albert Museum of Childhood's best-loved dollhouses, taking you on a journey through the history of the home, everyday lives, and changing family relationships. The exhibition is traveling worldwide with an exclusive U.S. engagement at the National Building Museum beginning in May 2016.

The homes show developments in architecture and design, encompassing country mansions, the Georgian town house, suburban villas, newly-built council estates, and high-rise apartments. Many of the houses, their furniture and dolls have been specially conserved for the exhibition, with around 1,900 objects being restored over two years in the V&A Museum's conservation department.

The museum charges for admission and for admission to the exhibit as well as for the guided tour.

Cost: $20 for members and their guests, $30 for non-members.

When: Saturday, October 22, 10:00am - 11:00am

Where: National Building Museum, 401 F Street, NW, Washington 20001

See George Washington's Masonic Mallet and Tour the Old Stone House

The Old Stone House, located at 3051 M Street in Georgetown, was built in 1765, making it the oldest standing building in Washington, DC. The exterior of the house is constructed of locally quarried blue granite.

The house was built by Christopher Layman, a cabinetmaker by trade, as both a residence and a shop. Layman died shortly after constructing the house. It was sold to Cassandra Chew who added a wing to the rear of the house in 1767. The street (then called Bridge Street) was a main thoroughfare for road traffic from the Western frontier and paralleled the canal into Georgetown. The house has been used throughout its history as a residence or residence/shop, until it was purchased in 1953 by the U.S. Government.

This tour is limited to HCW members and their guests, but you must register in advance. We will meet at 11:00 at the PNC Bank for a visit to the Old Stone House with Ms. Lee.

When: Saturday, October 29, 11:00am - 12:00pm

Where: PNC Bank - Georgetown Branch, Intersection of Wisconsin Avenue, NW and M Street, NW
Washington, DC 20008
