Since 1883, our Club has provided unique and compelling opportunities for education and fellowship to members of our Harvard community here in Washington. All of this is possible because of your support of our Club. The Harvard Club of Washington receives no funding from Harvard University. All of our funding comes from the generosity of members like you.

And so – at the start of this New Year, I thank you for your past support of our Club. And I ask that – if you can – you continue to support your Club generously in 2014 and beyond.

Please remember that your Club dues and any additional donations you make to the Harvard Club of Washington are fully tax deductible. If your employer provides a matching program for charitable donations – please consider asking your employer to match your contributions to our Club. We very much appreciate your support. Every dollar you donate to the Club goes to support our communities here in Washington and in Cambridge.

of Washington, D.C.*

For 128 years, Washington's Gridiron Club has regaled an annual white-tie dinner on Saturday night with satire and songs that skewer Presidents and congressional leaders, lobbyists and sacred cows.

What the HCW will see is our members -- including well-known faces that might include John Dickerson of CBS and Slate, Al Hunt of Bloomberg, Jonathan Karl of ABC, John King of CNN, Andrea Mitchell and Chuck Todd of NBC, and Judy Woodruff of PBS -- performing songs and skits in costume. Syndicated columnist Mark Shields relays excerpts of the speeches that were delivered the night before, which typically include remarks by the President and a leading Democrat and leading Republican. The musical performance is orchestrated by the director of the President's own, U.S. Marine Band, Col. Michael Colburn.
