Dear Harvard Club Members,

I hope this letter finds you well, whether enjoying the summer in Washington or escaping the heat with a sojourn elsewhere.

I am honored to have been asked to take over from David Greene the job of leading the Club, which he has done outstandingly. Fortunately, Dave will continue on the Board of Directors as Immediate Past President and give us the benefit of his experience and wise counsel. Furthermore, we have an excellent Board, with both experienced and newer Directors enthusiastic about planning events and programs.

A brief introduction: I was born in Taiwan and grew up in Nashville, where some of my favorite things were sweet tea, fried chicken, and, incongruously, watching the Boston Celtics on TV. I went on to a school just outside of Boston, graduated with a degree in Government, went up to Oxford for a master's in Philosophy, and returned to Harvard for law school. Now I work as a legal analyst in civil-fraud litigation at the US Department of Justice. My hobbies include travel, needlepoint, and badminton, and I'm always up for dim sum or afternoon tea!

This is an exciting time in Washington, as Harvard's commencement and summer break send a flock of recent grads and current students here for new jobs, internships, and visits home. I welcome you new members and hope to see you at the monthly happy hour, a recent-grads dinner, or an embassy reception. If you have friends who recently came down from Cambridge, please encourage them to join the Club.

Speaking of arrivals from Cambridge, I'm thrilled to tell you that Tommy Amaker, coach of the Harvard men's basketball team, will visit us on August 1 for a dinner-discussion. This is a rare opportunity to ask Coach Amaker about his experience leading the team in a spectacular season that took them to the second round of March Madness this year.

Mark your calendar for an embassy dinner on August 22. The Ambassador Dr. Lyushun Shen of the Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office (TECRO) has invited us to sit down to a traditional Chinese banquet at his residence, the historic Twin Oaks estate in the Cleveland Park neighborhood of Washington. Because Taiwan is my birthplace, I'm excited about this opportunity for our Club.

Come meet the US Secretary of Labor, Thomas E. Perez, JD '87, MPP '87, at a luncheon on November 21, when he will receive the 2014 Public Service Award. Each year our Club recognizes someone who has attended or been affiliated with Harvard and who has contributed significantly to the public good by service at least in part focused on the DC area. We're fortunate to be able to honor Secretary Perez at this luncheon, and I hope you'll join us.

I hope you'll find the Club to be a wonderful oasis from the DC summer, offering unique and entertaining events, stimulating conversation, and good company. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Best wishes,

Visit to the Mexican Cultural Institute and Tour of Octavio Paz Exhibit

Wednesday
July 23, 2014
5:00pm - 6:00pm

Mexican Cultural Institute
2829 16th Street, NW
Washington, DC 20011

The Mexican Embassy, through the Mexican Cultural Institute, honors Nobel Laureate Octavio Paz in this exhibit that brings together Paz's artist books and captures his indelible word through the illustration of renowned artists from Mexico and abroad. Rufino Tamayo, Juan Soriano, Vicente Rojo, Marcel Duchamp, Antoni Tàpies, Robert Motherwell, Balthus, and Cy Twombly give greater meaning to the world of Paz's words.

The Mexican Cultural Institute of Washington, DC, has recently been named to the Washington, DC, Inventory of Historic Sites. Such commendation speaks to the century-long heritage of the 16th Street mansion, whose murals and decorations are on display to the public.

Turkey Study Trip – Join Us!

A Message to Harvard Club Members, from Rumi Forum:

Rumi Forum is organizing a study trip to Turkey with the mission of finding out more about the social, economic, cultural, security, and political issues in Turkey and the wider region. We have two optional dates: August 15 to 24, 2014; and October 31 to November 9, 2014. If you would like to participate in this trip, please forward your biography for consideration and let us know which of these dates suits you the best.

In this trip you will have an opportunity to gain an insight into topics including national security, foreign policy, trade, economic development, civil-society activism, women's rights, and minority issues through meetings with parliamentarians (government and opposition), department officials, civil-society organizations, journalists, business people, and scholars, among others.

We ask our guests to kindly purchase their own round-trip flight tickets to and from Istanbul and provide $500 that will go towards domestic flights within Turkey. Rumi Forum covers all other expenses, including accommodation, ground transportation, and meals.

If you are interested, please let us know. If you have interested in this study tour, please send us their details for consideration, including name, position, organization, and a brief biography.

More information about the trip is provided at <http://www.rumiforum.org/>, including a sample itinerary, details of previously visitors, and general facts about travel in Turkey.

New events are added often, so be sure to check our website for updates!
